Jared Rand's Notes 11/23/2022 Conference Call

-) The first thing to roll out is “The Republic” Government going back to the original Constitution and the original ideas and documents from the founding Fathers and Saint Germain. (Yes, Saint Germain was involved in the original drafts of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution).

-) The reason we have not transitioned yet is “there is not enough bad guys or deep state rats” out the way yet.

-) NO ONE knows the timing of the release of major transition actions like: NESRA/GESARA, The Republic, GCR, R/V, Gold Standard for all currencies, & the QFS (Quantum Financial System). Even the high-up “White Hats” do not know the exact timing of the goals needed to be reached: mostly as many deep state rats to allow it all to be done safely and NEVER going back to the old system.

-) Still, part of it is to “Wake-Up” the sleeping public.

-) Big Revelation: THIS WILL HAPPEN!! WHY, because the vibration or frequency of this planet and humanity is ever increasing and is extremely high; that evil on this planet cannot and will not operate!

Sananda: Do Not Become Disheartened by the Illusion Playing Itself Out Excerpt:

“And there are many, many changes that are happening within all of you now.

Yes, there are changes outside of yourself in the external world, certainly, but there are so many changes that are happening within you, within your DNA processes, with your DNA reconnecting to bring about much more change within you. And in doing so, without you even knowing it most of the time. But there are those moments, whether in your dream state or your waking state, that you become aware, more fully aware that you are so much more than just this physical body, this consciousness within a physical body. Because it is your consciousness first, and then your physical form.”

Tunia: Suffering Is Not Good for People Excerpt:

If we had a hurt person in our care, we wouldn't hurt them even further in order to so-called motivate them. We would care for them and give them what they needed and we know that in time, their natural motivation would come back.

This is also why I very much do not like the current message that is being spread by the white hats or counterforces, which is that it's good for Earthlings to go through a period of suffering now in order to “wake up” and learn their lesson.

We do not agree. We Pleiadians do not think that it is beneficial for people to suffer, and certainly not this much, for this long. This much suffering just breaks people. In fact, it has already broken a lot of people.

Even if someone wants to argue that suffering is necessary for people to learn their lesson and to not let themselves get manipulated in the future, I would argue that people have suffered more than enough already for this purpose.

We would also like to note that in many cases, these white hats or counterforces are not themselves at risk of becoming homeless. Plus, in many cases they have access to reliable information so they know what's going on, which means that they themselves do not suffer from the confusion and uncertainty that many Earthlings are suffering from.

I really do not like this Earthling pattern of someone letting someone else suffer, and telling them this is good for them, while not undergoing this same suffering themselves.

Pleiadian High Council: The Mathematics of Awakening Excerpt:

This is the shift. This is the ascension. This is the awakening of your species into such a deep level of unity that when you emerge from this process, much like a butterfly from its cocoon, you will have changed so dramatically that you will no longer recognize your earth as it is now.

For although you are seemingly surrounded by much chaos and disillusionment, this is but the expression of the unbalanced mathematics that must come into frequency lock and harmony with the new earth dimension that you are awakening into.

The grid systems of your reality are shifting and phase-locking into a new dimensional expression, and as such, this tends to cause what is typically viewed as chaos. But this is simply the mathematics of a system going into disorganization, and then into still point, in order to emerge evolved in a higher form. This is happening on an individual, societal, and collective level within every being upon your planet.

We are; we can be; we come to serve as a focal point ~ a light in the darkness upon which you can focus, keeping yourself steady in your forward movement; keeping yourself rooted as the rest of you unfolds and expands into a greater reality.

Sananda: Do Not Become Disheartened by the Illusion Playing Itself Out

Posted on 11/18/2022

I am Sananda. I come to be with you at this time to continue to give you hope. To continue to provide further understandings of all that is happening in your lives, and all of the lives of the collective consciousness of man throughout the planet. For this is that time that you have heard about for so long now, that has been predicted for so long, the Great Changeover that is in process now.

Do not become disheartened by things that you are seeing within the illusion. Because as you have heard many times, it is simply that: it is an illusion. It is a show, a movie, that is playing out, if you see it that way.

And if you see it that way, you can continue to go on with your lives, not being held down in the quagmire, in the muck, of the third-dimensional illusionary expression. For you are beyond that now.

We have told you, you are no longer in the third-dimensional expression, except when you let yourselves be there. You let yourselves become disheartened. And you let yourself become discouraged, disillusioned.

But when you find yourself in the fourth dimension, and even fifth dimension, then all that is happening external to you has very little meaning to you in your life. That is where you need to continue to be: in the higher expression of the fourth and fifth dimensions.

And when you can be in that fifth-dimensional expression, you feel the bliss. You feel the letting go process where you can literally go with the flow, as you have heard many times. Just go with the flow of creation, of life, of love. Just go with it.

And If you do that, when you do that, you will continue to find yourselves flying high, soaring into the heavens with your own being. Because you will no longer be held back. Held back by the hatred, held back by the old programming of fear, of jealousy, and all of the other various emotions that can beseech you in the third-dimensional illusionary expression. That is not where you want to be now.

Of course, certain moments of your life, the old programming will come up. And when it comes up, become aware of it, as just that: memories holding programming that continues to move you in certain directions, continues to move your ego to assert itself. Because it can still continue to maintain control.

But as you know, you are taking control of your ego more and more. And when you do that, your ego will step aside, and will let the higher levels of yourself come forward. That is where you are all headed now, all working toward. All being trained to be ready to accept the changes within yourself.

And there are many, many changes that are happening within all of you now.

Yes, there are changes outside of yourself in the external world, certainly, but there are so many changes that are happening within you, within your DNA processes, with your DNA reconnecting to bring about much more change within you. And in doing so, without you even knowing it most of the time. But there are those moments, whether in your dream state or your waking state, that you become aware, more fully aware that you are so much more than just this physical body, this consciousness within a physical body. Because it is your consciousness first, and then your physical form.

Continue now, each and every day, moving forward now, even each and every moment, moving forward with your various thought processes. Keep thinking in positive fashion, knowing that everything is indeed working out for the greater good of all of the collective consciousness of man.

And as everything continues on, you are going to find what we have said many times, nothing can stop what is coming. You will fully learn the full ramifications of that, and why we have been saying this. Why you have been hearing it from so many different sources. Because, my brothers and sisters, now indeed is the time to be ready for it.

I am Sananda, and I leave you now in peace, and love, and oneness. That you would continue to fully more and more realize who you are, what you are here for, and how you can continue to move everything forward in a positive fashion.

Tunia: Suffering Is Not Good for People

Posted on 11/23/2022

My dearest brothers and sisters,
This is Tunia speaking. I love you so very much.
As explained in previous messages, there's a group of hostile Galactics, demons and their Earthling minions that have been ruling Earth for millennia. We call these the dark controllers.

This current time is about Earthlings breaking free from this control. This is why this period is so confusing and why nothing really seems to make sense. I guarantee that Earthlings will break free. However, this is not an easy or painless process.

These hostile Galactics and demons feed off the negative emotions of Earthlings. Your suffering is literally food for them.

If you have ever wondered why there is so much suffering in the world, this is why. Your society is literally set up to maximize suffering, without making it obvious that you are being ruled by a small group of dark controllers.

After all, if the majority of Earthlings ever realized what was going on, they could put a stop to it, as is happening now.

If I asked you to design a global Earthling farm that maximizes suffering, without making it obvious to the Earthlings that you are controlling and farming them, could you design a more effective system than what currently exists?

This is why everything is currently so terrible on your world. You are living in a global farm that harvests human suffering.

These dark controllers' parasite on Earthlings because they have disconnected themselves from Source. Because they have disconnected themselves, they do not directly receive the only energy in the entire universe: Lovelight. Instead they parasite this energy indirectly, from other beings – in this case, from suffering Earthlings.

That said, these beings could restore their connection to Source in a literal minute and resume gaining Lovelight, simply by genuinely feeling remorse for their actions and asking Source to take them back under His / Her wing. Source is infinitely loving and infinitely forgiving, after all. So, you don't need to worry about what will happen to these dark controllers once they stop being a parasite on Earthlings. They can simply turn to Source and if they do, they will be fine. They know this, they just choose to be parasites instead.

Now, suppose you are indeed designing a global farm that harvests human suffering. What is one message that is absolutely essential to tell Earthlings, over and over and over again? It is this: suffering is good for you.

It is obvious why this message is important to tell Earthlings, right? This way they won't revolt against a society that causes them to suffer, and instead they will just allow themselves to be farmed.

However, this message "suffering is good for you" is yet another example of what we call "inverted information." Inverted information is a message that is the exact opposite of what is actually true.

Demons and their human minions really love spreading information that is the exact opposite of what is actually true, just as they enjoy inverting symbols or turning symbols upside down. For example, the upside-down cross is a popular symbol among minions of demons, although it can also be used as the Cross of Saint Peter.

Demons enjoy taking existing symbols and turning it upside down. Or they enjoy spreading inverted information, the exact opposite of what is actually true.

This is because they are disconnected from Source and do not gain Lovelight from Source. Hence, they literally do not have creativity. If you gave a demon a sheet of paper and a pen and asked them to draw something, they literally could not do so. They cannot create anything, they can only twist and corrupt and destroy existing things. Hence, they invert symbols and they invert information.

As we stated, one piece of inverted information that they spread is: “suffering is good for you.” No, in fact, suffering is bad for you.

One way to illustrate this is the following. We Pleadians are practically the same people as Earthlings. We are so alike that Pleadians and Earthling can have children together in the normal way. In fact, in these messages we have been using the term “human” to refer to both Pleadians and Earthlings.

However, we Pleadians experience zero or practically zero suffering in our lives, in Earthling terms. And this is the most important factor why we are so loving. We are not better people than you are – we simply did not suffer as you did, and so our hearts did not close to protect itself. And so, we love.

Or consider Earthling vs Pleadian children. Our children do not suffer and are not controlled by us – we never tell them that they must do this or what they must believe or what they must think, except in the rare cases where they could seriously hurt themselves otherwise. At most we will answer questions and share our perspectives, while clearly stating that these are perspectives.

And because our children do not suffer, they automatically develop what you would consider to be supernatural abilities. Even if we do not discuss supernatural abilities with a child or show these to them, even then our children usually spontaneously develop them.

This is not because our children are somehow inherently better than yours. In fact, Earthling children have a greater psychic potential than ours because of their more diverse DNA. No, it is simply the case that if children do not suffer, they automatically develop innate abilities. This is natural. Your children do not develop these abilities because on your world, nearly all children suffer, for example by being told what to do, or what to think, or what to believe, or what not to do.

Yes, it causes suffering to a child to be told what to do, what to think, what to believe or what not to do, except in cases where it is made very clear to the child that this is needed to prevent direct serious harm to them. When we share information, we present this as being our perspective, not as this being absolute truth that the child has to believe. This actually makes a big difference.

We do not force our children to sit in a classroom and learn things they don't want to learn. Instead if a child wishes to learn about say drawing, we ask a suitably skilled adult to show them ways in which they can draw.

We do have something similar to a primary school that teaches basic information, but it is short and voluntary. Children can decide to take a break from this school to, let's say, meet various kinds of animals for a month before resuming their lessons.

If ever an Earthling tried raising a child in this Pleiadian way, they would be absolutely shocked at the wisdom that the child would show. In fact, if an Earthling child was raised in such a way, they could easily become a spiritual teacher of mankind, even when still a child. Children often have profound wisdom in them.

However, suffering closes people's hearts. It shuts off the mind – heart connection and the mind – soul connection. It makes people turn away from their brothers and sisters. It creates shame. It shuts down supernatural abilities, wisdom and it saps people's strength and joy and life force.

Some people may say that suffering brings wisdom or compassion. Well yes, in some situations it can, but you can also gain wisdom and compassion without suffering. We Pleiadians are able to accomplish that just fine.

Humans, whether Earthling or Pleiadian, are inherently motivated to learn and explore and experience things. Suffering can shut down this natural desire. Because of suffering, some people become so hurt that they just start auto-piloting through life, never trying out anything new. And so sometimes these people get shaken awake by some further suffering that befalls them, and this further suffering gets them out of their auto-pilot. And thus, this suffering may seem beneficial to them.

However, if these beings had never suffered in the first place, then they would never have switched into auto-pilot mode in the first place.

If we had a hurt person in our care, we wouldn't hurt them even further in order to so-called motivate them. We would care for them and give them what they needed and we know that in time, their natural motivation would come back.

This is also why I very much do not like the current message that is being spread by the white hats or counterforces, which is that it's good for Earthlings to go through a period of suffering now in order to "wake up" and learn their lesson.

We do not agree. We Pleiadians do not think that it is beneficial for people to suffer, and certainly not this much, for this long. This much suffering just breaks people. In fact, it has already broken a lot of people.

Even if someone wants to argue that suffering is necessary for people to learn their lesson and to not let themselves get manipulated in the future, I would argue that people have suffered more than enough already for this purpose.

We would also like to note that in many cases, these white hats or counterforces are not themselves at risk of becoming homeless. Plus, in many cases they have access to reliable information so they know what's going on, which means that they themselves do not suffer from the confusion and uncertainty that many Earthlings are suffering from.

I really do not like this Earthling pattern of someone letting someone else suffer, and telling them this is good for them, while not undergoing this same suffering themselves.

From our point of view, what would be most beneficial for Earthlings is the following:

One: have the white hats or counterforces arrest the bad guys, as soon and as completely as possible. Children are suffering terribly on Earth every single day, and in our minds, this weighs heavier than many of the concerns that the white hats currently have. Yes, there are risks and drawbacks associated with arresting a large number of bad guys in the near future, but there are also risks and drawbacks associated with not doing so.

White hats: if you think there are concrete obstacles to these arrests, feel free to talk to us. We are available to help in supportive roles. Also: don't underestimate yourselves. There is almost nothing you cannot accomplish.

Two: make sure that as many needs, of as many Earthlings as possible are met, as quickly as possible. Most people who are suffering will not be open to completely changing their world view. If you first make sure that their needs are met, then they may be open to accepting new information. In my previous message, I have offered a framework under which we Pleadians would be happy to share technology with Earthlings, for free, in order to reduce Earthling suffering and make sure that people have what they need.

And three: actually, start giving out truthful and complete information to Earthlings, on mainstream channels. You don't necessarily need to tell everything in one day, but start the process of disclosure.

With that said: I am beyond impressed that many Earthlings are still good-hearted, even after suffering so much. I genuinely have a hard time believing that you are so resilient and so loving even after so much pain and sorrow. And many Galactics share this point of view. To us, you are an inspiration, even though we also hope that soon you will be living in a better situation.

We suffer very little ourselves, so we could not imagine the amount of pain that the average Earthling goes through. Even less we can imagine someone suffering so much, and still maintaining a fundamentally good heart. The dark controllers can imagine this even less, and they keep underestimating you and keep being baffled by your resilience and good-heartedness, even in a world with so much pain and darkness.

Everyone has my unconditional love. If you are able to maintain a fundamentally good heart, then you also have my great and deep respect. You don't need to be kind or nice every moment of the day for this – if you just try to do your best for yourself and the people around you, then I think that's fantastic.

I genuinely do not think that if I lived the life of some of you Earthling light workers out there, I would do as well as you are doing. You are genuinely amazing and inspirational to me. In fact, more and more Galactics out there have started using Earthling light workers as shining examples of what the light and what the human spirit is capable of. Some Galactics even refer to Earthling lightworkers in the lessons that they are offering to their children. You are an inspiration to many, many beings out there.

Better times are coming in the medium term. Earthlings will be free, no matter what happens: the question is how quick and how painful the process will be of becoming free.

I love you unconditionally and endlessly.

Pleiadian High Council: The Mathematics of Awakening

Posted on 11/23/2022

Greetings dear ones. We are the Pleiadian High Council. It is an honor for us to communicate with your earth human collective on this wondrous day. As the shape and hue of humanity changes, you come ever-closer to that divine perfection from which you were created. As the spiraling mathematics spins you from one dimension to the next, from one density of consciousness to the next, you approach that which is much closer to your true essence, to your true form, and to your true divine brilliance.

This is the shift. This is the ascension. This is the awakening of your species into such a deep level of unity that when you emerge from this process, much like a butterfly from its cocoon, you will have changed so dramatically that you will no longer recognize your earth as it is now.

For although you are seemingly surrounded by much chaos and disillusionment, this is but the expression of the unbalanced mathematics that must come into frequency lock and harmony with the new earth dimension that you are awakening into.

The grid systems of your reality are shifting and phase-locking into a new dimensional expression, and as such, this tends to cause what is typically viewed as chaos. But this is simply the mathematics of a system going into disorganization, and then into still point, in order to emerge evolved in a higher form. This is happening on an individual, societal, and collective level within every being upon your planet.

We are; we can be; we come to serve as a focal point ~ a light in the darkness upon which you can focus, keeping yourself steady in your forward movement; keeping yourself rooted as the rest of you unfolds and expands into a greater reality.

We are here so that you don't get lost in the chaotic darkness of change. We are here with a message of love, of support, of guidance ~ for we have always been here with you and will continue to do so. As the veils of our respective realities begin to thin and fade to nothingness, our realities become ever closer. The days are at hand when we will be able to interact in a more physical and present aspect.

While this is something you may hold in heart and in mind as an inspiration to keep you moving forward, do not let our inevitable reunification be a thing that you wait upon, therefore stalling your own progression and awakening; waiting for a moment for an external force to come and "save" you. It is up to each and every individual upon your own earth to be the light that awakens your collective out of its present illusion of reality.

We are but humble guides and observers who can offer love and light, wisdom and guidance. But the work must be done by each and every individual upon your planet. Just know we are here to support and to serve you. As our realities come closer to the point of merging and emergence, the help we are able to provide will become more substantial.

But the hardest part must be done by your collective.

Just know there are many different species from many different planetary and star systems, even galaxies. All are here watching and observing you, supporting you in love, light, energy and wisdom.

These are all the tools you need to fill your consciousness with the necessary components to awaken self and others. The day comes ever-closer when we will reunite as brothers and sisters of spirit; as divine humans; as beautiful souls and oversouls, all united in a common goal and purpose: The unity consciousness that binds us all.

Always know that you are loved, and you are never alone.

Namaste.
